INFORMATION GOVERNANCE SERVICES

WYNTEC

*Wyntec's robust Information Governance Services are fully integrated with Wyntec's DataOps and Data Provisioning offerings to continually monitor your data integration environment to deliver actionable insights

Effective Information Governance initiatives require organizations to do the following:

- Understand your data: ensure your resources understand how data is defined, connected, transformed, and utilized across your environment
- Periodically profile your data: monitor the overall health of all your information assets, establish stakeholder confidence and provide full transparency
- Identify data quality issues: log the issues, assign the right resources for remediation and escalate if necessary

All these capabilities are incorporated into Wyntec's unique Information Governance Service offering, which is composed of three integrated components:

MetaInsights Understand your data	Data Quality Periodically profile your data	Stewardship Identify data quality issues
Assess your company's data quality, object usage, data lineage metadata from an easy to use platform	Measure your company's data quality against standard and custom rules at a cadence that makes sense to your organization	Bring together your technical and business processes to ensure that your organization continuously improves upon the data quality

What tangible benefits would your organization realize if it could:

- Determine how your data assets are being used by your stakeholders and information consumers
- Automatically monitor your organization's data quality and remediate issues before they become costly and visible

- Wyntec's Information Governance Services are provided to our customers as a subscription-based offering that wraps self-service analytics, data quality, machine learning and stewardship around your data integration platform
- We are uniquely positioned to offer you the maximum value for the lowest monthly subscription fee.
- This is only possible because our models are conformed, our data scientists are subject matter experts, and the research and development costs are spread across multiple customers.

No other organization offers more comprehensive Information Governance services. Bar none.
